Introduction

This report reads Mila's birth chart: the exact positions of the Sun, the Moon and the planets at the minute and place of birth.

It starts with your Big Three: the Sun, the Moon and the Ascendant (your Rising sign). After that it moves through the planets in order of their distance from the Sun, starting with Mercury and ending with Pluto, followed by the Midheaven.

Every part is laid out the same way. First, what that planet or point represents. Second, where it sits in your chart: its sign and its house. Third, its aspects, which are the angles it makes to the other planets.

Each aspect is printed once, under whichever planet comes first in the report. Venus opposition Saturn appears in the Venus part and is not repeated in the Saturn part.

About orbs. Under each aspect you will see its orb, which is how far the aspect is from exact. The smaller the orb, the more intensely you feel that aspect.

After the planets come the patterns in your chart, how your houses connect and your North Node. Only what is actually in your chart is included. A glossary at the back explains every term.

You may find some contradictions. One planet can help you in an area of life while another holds you back in the same area, so you can have both experiences at different times. When two paragraphs pull in different directions, both describe you.

Your chart, with your Rising sign (Ascendant) on the left. The outer ring shows the 12 signs, each planet is labeled with its name and exact degree, and the numbers inside the wheel are your 12 houses. Red lines are tension aspects (squares and oppositions); blue lines are easy aspects (trines and sextiles).

PART 1

Sun

Your core self, meaning your identity, willpower and purpose, and the part of you that wants to shine and be recognized.

Sun in Gemini

Your Sun is in Gemini, and the Sun is the heart of your chart, the person you are becoming. Gemini is the sign of the question, the conversation, the mind that needs two of everything to stay interested. So your identity is built on curiosity, quickness, and the ability to see every side, and the cost is that you can know a little about everything and commit to nothing, so you must learn that depth is not a cage but a different kind of adventure.

Sun in 12th House

the 12th House: the private, hidden self

You recharge in solitude and work best behind the scenes, with a quiet compassion that suits caregiving, research or spiritual work.

PART 2

Moon

Your emotional side, meaning your feelings, instincts, habits and what you need to feel safe, the part of you that reacts before you think.

Moon in Pisces

Your Moon is in Pisces, and the Moon is your inner world, the part of you that absorbs and responds. Pisces absorbs everything, so you feel the mood of a room, the sadness of a stranger, and the ache in a song as if they were your own. So you need solitude, imagination, and gentle people, and the cost is that you can lose track of which feelings are yours and which you picked up on the way, so you must learn to empty your pockets at the end of the day.

Moon in 8th House

the 8th House: intimacy, shared money and change

You feel everything deeply and read people easily, but trusting others and letting them in takes time.

ASPECTS

Moon square Mercury

orb 1°00'

You want one deep bond and think about the whole group. The group gets a depth it can't use, and the one person gets a crowd.

Moon sextile Uranus

orb 5°05'

You do unusual work in crisis. The strange job is necessary, and nobody else applied for it.

PART 3

Ascendant (Rising sign)

Your rising sign, meaning the first impression you give and the way you approach life, set by the sign rising in the east at the exact minute you were born.

Ascendant in Cancer

Your Ascendant is in Cancer, and the Ascendant is the face you show, your instinctive way of meeting the world. Cancer makes that face warm, careful, and protective, so people sense that you will look after them and also that you are watching for danger. So you come across as nurturing and a little guarded, and the cost is that you can mother everyone in the room while nobody thinks to ask how you are, so you must learn to let yourself be the one who is cared for.

ASPECTS

- Ascendant sextile Venus

orb 3°47'

Your affection for friends and your outward manner cooperate, so you seem friendly and inclusive wherever you go. You fit into a new circle in an afternoon, and the circle keeps you.

- Ascendant conjunct Jupiter

orb 5°47'

Jupiter in your 12th house sits just above your Ascendant, right beside it, which means your faith is hidden behind the face you show. The Ascendant is your outward manner, and with Jupiter sitting behind it, people meet someone calm and kind who turns out to carry a surprising amount of hope and protection underneath. So you seem gentler and more private than your optimism really is, and you must learn to let the faith show on purpose instead of keeping it as a private comfort.

Ascendant opposition Saturn

orb 2°37'

Saturn in your 7th house means you want a partner who is steady, and you tend to find one who is stern. The Ascendant is how you present yourself, and the opposition means the seriousness in your life shows up in your partners more than in your own manner. So you attract older, graver, more demanding people and feel they are always setting limits, and you must learn that you chose them because the discipline was something you needed to learn.

Ascendant opposition Neptune

orb 7°44'

Neptune in your 6th house means your work and your health drift unless they serve something that matters to you. The Ascendant is the face you show the world, and with Neptune opposite it across the chart, your sensitivity lives in your daily service rather than in your manner. So you present as practical and are in fact deeply porous at work, and you must learn to protect your energy from the people and tasks that drain it without your noticing.

Ascendant trine Pluto

orb 6°03'

Pluto in your 5th house means love and art are where you are most intense and most alive. The Ascendant is how you present yourself, and the trine from the pleasure side means your passionate heart flows into your manner. So you come across as magnetic, creative, and impossible to forget, and the gift is a charisma that opens doors without effort.

PART 4

Mercury

Your mind, meaning how you think, learn, talk and handle information.

Mercury in Gemini

You have a quick, curious mind that jumps between topics and connects ideas, and you know a little about a lot.

Mercury in 11th House

the 11th House: friends, groups and future hopes

You think in terms of groups, the future and new ideas, and you network easily.

ASPECTS

- Mercury sextile Midheaven

orb 0°05'

Your mind on friends and your public direction cooperate, so the network and the career feed each other. Opportunities come through people you talk to, and you talk to everyone.

PART 5

Venus

What you love and value, meaning how you attract and show affection, and what you find beautiful and worth spending on.

Venus in Taurus

You love slowly, sensually and loyally, crave comfort and security, and can become possessive.

Venus in 11th House

the 11th House: friends, groups and future hopes

Your love life grows out of friendships and social circles, and you're drawn to unique, unconventional people.

ASPECTS

Venus sextile Jupiter

orb 2°00'

Venus in your 11th house sextiles Jupiter in your 12th, so friends bring quiet protection. A friend helped and never said so, and you found out years later.

Venus trine Saturn

orb 6°24'

Venus in your 11th house trines Saturn in your 7th, so loving friends and serious partnership agree. The partner fits the small circle, and the ease means the circle approved and then closed.

Venus trine Neptune

orb 3°57'

Venus in your 11th house trines Neptune in your 6th, so your love of friends and your intuitive work flow together. The circle runs on your care, and has never once run out.

Venus opposition Pluto

orb 2°16'

Your affection for friends in the 11th house faces your passionate creativity in the 5th, so the group and the love affair compete. The friends are loved and the lover is consuming.

PART 6

Mars

Your drive, meaning how you go after what you want, take action and fight.

Mars in Aries

You act fast and directly, with the courage to go first, but you can be impatient and flare up quickly.

Mars in 10th House

the 10th House: career, reputation and public life

You're ambitious and driven toward career success, leadership and independence.

ASPECTS

- Mars square Jupiter

orb 5°19'

Your ambition in the 10th house squares your private faith in the 12th, so you climb on a belief nobody sees. The drive comes from somewhere hidden and its source is a question.

- Mars square Uranus

orb 2°10'

Your ambition in the 10th house squares your erratic routine in the 6th, so climbing and a broken schedule collide. The career is pushed and the routine has never caught up with it.

Mars square Neptune

orb 3°22'

Mars in your 10th house means you push hard for career success. Neptune in your 6th house means your daily work and routine drift. The square means ambition and habit don't cooperate, so you want the top and can't structure the ordinary days that would get you there, and the energy meant for the climb gets lost in weeks that dissolve without a record.

Mars conjunct Midheaven

orb 6°10'

Mars in your 10th house sits right on your Midheaven, which means your drive and your career are the same thing. The Midheaven is your public role and reputation, and with Mars on it you go after success directly, take pride in what you build, and react strongly to anyone in your way. So you rarely back down from what you want, you are temperamental with obstacles and authority, and you must learn that mentors who challenge you are not the obstacle.

PART 7

Jupiter

Growth and luck, meaning where life opens doors for you and where you tend to overdo it.

Jupiter in Cancer

You grow through home, family and caring for others, and your compassion brings rewards and emotional security.

Jupiter in 12th House

the 12th House: the private, hidden self

You're quietly protected in hard times, with strong intuition and a generous drive to serve others without needing credit.

ASPECTS

Jupiter opposition Uranus

orb 7°29'

Jupiter in your 12th house means you have a faith nobody sees and a luck nobody can explain. Uranus in your 6th house gives you unusual work, unusual hours, and unusual coworkers. The opposition means your quiet faith and your erratic routine face each other, so you believe the work matters and keep quitting it, and you attract jobs that test the belief by changing.

Jupiter opposition Neptune

orb 1°57'

Jupiter in your 12th house means you are protected in ways you can't explain and generous in ways nobody sees. Neptune in your 6th house means you are drawn to work that helps and bad at work that counts. The opposition means your quiet faith and your drifting work pull against each other, so you believe the work matters and can't say what it is, and you attract jobs that are also a kind of fog.

Jupiter trine Pluto

orb 0°16'

Jupiter in your 12th house means you have a quiet faith that something is looking after you, and it often seems to be. Pluto in your 5th house makes your fun feel like a matter of life and death, which is both the thrill and the problem. The trine means your quiet hope and your passionate heart flow together, so your love and your creativity draw on something deep and gentle, and the gift is art or romance that heals quietly that feels effortless.

PART 8

Saturn

Discipline and responsibility, meaning where life tests you and makes you earn lasting results through hard work and time.

Saturn in Capricorn

You're built for responsibility, ambition and long-term achievement, and your lesson is to lead without rigidity or fear of failure.

Saturn in 7th House

the 7th House: partners and close one-on-one ties

You take commitment very seriously and feel the weight of responsibility in partnerships, valuing loyalty and fairness.

Saturn retrograde

You don't follow rules just because someone said so, and you hold yourself to strict standards that often leave you feeling never quite ready. Early on, authority and responsibility can feel heavy, but over time you build your own structures and often become the respected authority yourself.

PART 9

Uranus

The rebel in you, meaning where you break rules, need freedom and get hit with sudden change.

Uranus in Capricorn

You belong to a generation that challenges and reforms government, business and authority, rebuilding old institutions in resourceful ways.

Uranus in 6th House

the 6th House: work, routines and health

You need variety and freedom at work and do things your own way, and too much routine builds up as nervous tension.

Uranus retrograde

You may look fairly ordinary on the outside, but inside you're a rebel who needs freedom and does things your own way. Your urge to break from the crowd works quietly at first and comes out more boldly as you get older.

ASPECTS

Uranus conjunct Neptune

orb 5°32'

Uranus and Neptune sit together in your 6th house, which means your daily work combines restlessness with drift. Uranus here cannot stand routine, and Neptune here loses the day without noticing. Because they are joined, you can do inventive, compassionate work in unusual ways, and the cost is that you can struggle to hold any structure at all, so you must learn to build a loose routine you can actually keep.

Uranus square Midheaven

orb 4°00'

Uranus in your 6th house means you break routines constantly and change jobs on impulse. The Midheaven is your public role, and the square means your restless daily work and your reputation fight. So you innovate brilliantly and are known as unreliable, because the changes come faster than anyone can credit them, and you must learn to stay in one place long enough for your improvements to be seen.

PART 10

Neptune

Dreams and imagination, meaning where you feel inspired, compassionate or spiritual, and where you can get lost in illusion.

Neptune in Capricorn

You belong to a generation that combines idealism with realism, working hard to make dreams concrete, sometimes with a cynical edge.

Neptune in 6th House

the 6th House: work, routines and health

You're drawn to serve and heal through your work, but you absorb the mood of your workplace, so clear limits and healthy routines matter.

Neptune retrograde

Your dreams, imagination and spiritual side live deep inside you, and you need plenty of alone time to recharge. You learn to see through illusions, including the ones you tell yourself, which makes your intuition sharper and more grounded over time.

ASPECTS

Neptune sextile Pluto

orb 1°41'

Neptune in your 6th house means you get taken advantage of at work because the word no will not form. Pluto in your 5th house gives you a creative force that comes back from every defeat with more teeth. The sextile lets your sensitivity at work and your creative intensity cooperate, so you bring inspiration into the most ordinary tasks, and the opportunity is in craft or caregiving that others feel as something more.

PART 11

Pluto

Power and transformation, meaning where you go through deep endings and come back completely changed.

Pluto in Scorpio

You belong to a generation that brings sex, death, money and taboo into the open, often facing loss or betrayal early and building deep resilience.

Pluto in 5th House

the 5th House: creativity, romance and fun

You love, create and parent with intense passion, but you have to watch for power struggles and excess.

Pluto retrograde

Your biggest changes happen inside first, through cycles of tearing down and rebuilding who you are. You may struggle with control, either holding on too tight or hating to be controlled, but you develop a deep understanding of power and what drives people.

PART 12

Midheaven

Your public path, meaning your career, reputation and what you want to be known for in the world.

Midheaven in Aries

Your Midheaven is in Aries, and the Midheaven is your public role, the reputation you build and the direction your career wants to take. Aries puts a pioneer at the top of your chart, so you are meant to be known for courage, initiative, and doing things first. So your calling involves leading, competing, or starting what did not exist, and the cost is that you can burn out fast or fight battles that were not worth it, so you must learn that a career is a long race run in short sprints.

PART 13

Patterns in your chart

The themes that repeat across your whole chart. Only the patterns your chart actually has are listed.

Stellium in Capricorn

Saturn, Uranus, Neptune

You have a stellium in Capricorn, so ambition, discipline and duty run through most of your chart. You climb slowly and arrive, and the enjoyment was supposed to come after the work and hasn't yet.

Dominant mode: Cardinal

Cardinal signs dominate your chart, so you start things, set direction and get restless when nothing is moving. The cost is follow-through, and the drawer of half-finished beginnings is full.

PART 14

How your houses connect

The planet that rules the sign on a house's cusp, meaning where that planet sits shows how two areas of your life are connected.

Ruler of the 1st House in the 8th House

Cancer on the 1st House cusp, ruled by Moon in your 8th House (intimacy, shared money and change)

Your chart ruler sits in your 8th house, so you are defined by depth, privacy and what you've survived. People meet a composed surface, and the real you is underneath it.

Ruler of the 2nd House in the 12th House

Leo on the 2nd House cusp, ruled by Sun in your 12th House (the private, hidden self)

The ruler of your 2nd house sits in your 12th, so your money is private, hidden or hard to track. You undervalue what you have, and the income has a way of going somewhere nobody can account for.

Ruler of the 3rd House in the 11th House

Virgo on the 3rd House cusp, ruled by Mercury in your 11th House (friends, groups and future hopes)

The ruler of your 3rd house sits in your 11th, so your mind runs through your network. You learn from friends, think in groups, and the circle is wide and scattered.

Ruler of the 4th House in the 11th House

Libra on the 4th House cusp, ruled by Venus in your 11th House (friends, groups and future hopes)

The ruler of your 4th house sits in your 11th, so friends are family and the house is theirs too. The home is a gathering place, and the gatherings are the point.

Ruler of the 5th House in the 5th House

Scorpio on the 5th House cusp, ruled by Pluto in your 5th House (creativity, romance and fun)

The ruler of your 5th house sits in your 5th, so creativity, romance and children are their own reward. You take the risk gladly, and the gamble has usually paid.

Ruler of the 6th House in the 12th House

Sagittarius on the 6th House cusp, ruled by Jupiter in your 12th House (the private, hidden self)

The ruler of your 6th house sits in your 12th, so your work happens behind the scenes. The service is unseen, and the effort is rarely credited.

Ruler of the 7th House in the 7th House

Capricorn on the 7th House cusp, ruled by Saturn in your 7th House (partners and close one-on-one ties)

The ruler of your 7th house sits in your 7th, so partnership is a commitment you take with full seriousness. The relationship is the center of your life, and losing yourself in it is the risk.

Ruler of the 8th House in the 6th House

Aquarius on the 8th House cusp, ruled by Uranus in your 6th House (work, routines and health)

The ruler of your 8th house sits in your 6th, so your work involves crisis, recovery or other people's money. The daily job is heavy, and you're steady under it.

Ruler of the 9th House in the 6th House

Pisces on the 9th House cusp, ruled by Neptune in your 6th House (work, routines and health)

The ruler of your 9th house sits in your 6th, so your beliefs are lived through daily work. The job has a purpose, and the routine serves it.

Ruler of the 10th House in the 10th House

Aries on the 10th House cusp, ruled by Mars in your 10th House (career, reputation and public life)

The ruler of your 10th house sits in your 10th, so ambition runs on its own fuel. You rise by your own effort, and the career is the life.

Ruler of the 11th House in the 11th House

Taurus on the 11th House cusp, ruled by Venus in your 11th House (friends, groups and future hopes)

The ruler of your 11th house sits in your 11th, so friendship and belonging run on their own power. The group is wide, loyal and easy, and you've never been without one.

Ruler of the 12th House in the 11th House

Gemini on the 12th House cusp, ruled by Mercury in your 11th House (friends, groups and future hopes)

The ruler of your 12th house sits in your 11th, so friends are tied to what's hidden. The circle has let you down privately, and the ones who stayed are few.

PART 15

North Node

Your growth direction, meaning the unfamiliar qualities and experiences you are meant to develop in this life, even though they feel uncomfortable at first.

North Node in Aquarius, South Node in Leo

Your North Node is in Aquarius and your South Node is in Leo, and the Nodes are the soul's direction and the soul's comfort zone. Leo is the comfort zone, being the center, being special, being adored, and needing the applause to feel real. So your growth lies in Aquarius, in friendship, the group, a cause bigger than your name, and the freedom of not having to be the star, and you must learn that you matter even when nobody is watching.

North Node in 7th House, South Node in 1st House

the 7th House: partners and close one-on-one ties

You're used to doing everything on your own, but your growth comes from partnership, compromise and letting others matter.

ASPECTS

Conjunction	Two planets side by side, meaning they blend into one force stronger than either alone, for better or worse depending on the planets.

Sextile	Two planets 60° apart, meaning a friendly connection that opens opportunities when you put in a little effort.
Square	Two planets 90° apart, meaning friction and inner conflict that pushes you to act and builds strength over time.
Trine	Two planets 120° apart, meaning natural ease and talent that flows without effort, but can make you lazy about using it.
Opposition	Two planets directly across the chart, meaning a tug-of-war between two sides of you that asks for balance, often showing up through other people.
Stellium	Three or more planets packed into one sign or house, meaning that sign or area of life dominates your chart and your story.

MODES

Cardinal	The starters, meaning signs that launch new things and take the lead, with a tendency to be impatient (Aries, Cancer, Libra and Capricorn).
Fixed	The stabilizers, meaning signs that hold steady, focus and see things through, with a tendency to be stubborn (Taurus, Leo, Scorpio and Aquarius).
Mutable	The adapters, meaning signs that flex, change and wrap things up, with a tendency to be easily swayed (Gemini, Virgo, Sagittarius and Pisces).

CHART TERMS

Birth chart	A map of the sky at the exact minute and place you were born, meaning the blueprint astrologers read to understand you.
Big Three	Your Sun, Moon and Rising signs, meaning your core self, your emotional side and the first impression you make.

Cusp	The line where a house begins, meaning the sign on it sets the tone for that area of your life.
Orb	How many degrees an aspect can be off exact and still count, meaning the tighter the orb, the stronger you feel it.
Retrograde	A planet that looked like it was moving backward when you were born, meaning its traits are turned inward first and come out more slowly and personally over time.
Chart ruler	The planet that rules your rising sign, meaning the planet that steers your whole chart and how you move through life.
House ruler	The planet that rules the sign on a house's cusp, meaning where that planet sits shows how two areas of your life are connected.

Calculated with the Swiss Ephemeris (2.10.03). Tropical zodiac, Placidus houses. Birth time 07:45 MDT (UTC 1990-06-14 13:45). Aspect orbs: conjunction and opposition 8° (10° with the Sun or Moon), square and trine 7° (8°), sextile 5° (6°).
